

THE COLFAX HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL STAFF

has chosen

"LIGHT"

to guide us through our yearbook

"THE FLAME"
of 1960-1961

The word LIGHT has been used as a symbol to express feeling, wisdom, and understanding of our everyday spiritual, mental, and physical life, since Biblical times.

Our yearbook, called "The Flame," may be classed as a symbol of light as the word itself expresses, that in it is recorded the "highlights" in pictures of the activities of our school.

The sections of the book are shown by lighted candles to guide us. Meditate on each---remembering the "quotation-slogan" of a TV program, "If everyone would light just one little candle, what a bright world this would be." How can you light a candle to make this world a brighter, better place in which to live?

PHYSICAL & OR STOP & GO LIGHTS

The Grant Parish School Board has the responsibility for the "Physical Light" of the Grant Parish Educational system. They are kept busy with the responsibility of supplying qualified teachers and of maintaining the school system in curriculum and in building modern school buildings conducive to study. They, with the personnel found at the School Board Office, are our "Stop and Go Light" - the nucleus of the Grant Parish School System.

THE LIGHT OF UNDERSTANDING

The light of understanding education is the best guide to success. Those of you who are students in high school and those of you who are graduating, have an opportunity to make your light glow with brightness that your path through life will be lighted.

Knowledge and understanding together constitutes education. One without the other is less effective than when your light is planned from a proper mixture of both.

In this age of political unrest and technological advancement it is extremely important that you acquire the best education which is possible, and apply yourself to every task with calm and understanding.

Cecil C. Belgard
Grant Parish Superintendent of Education

Colfax High School

E. B. SWAFFORD, Principal

Colfax, Louisiana

Throughout the ages, people have spoken of education as the light by which future generations may shape their destiny. Only by understanding the accumulated knowledge of past history can the citizens of the future hope to better their world. Education is the key to this knowledge which will illuminate the problems which must be solved in the near future if our free way of life is to be preserved. With a good education as a background, the students of today can become the leaders of tomorrow, lighting the way to a brilliant and promising future.

Sincerely,

E. B. Swafford, Principal

"GUIDING LIGHT"

To a teacher time in a classroom and its daily needs are never ending. We, who teach, set into motion certain words and activities in the lives of our pupils which continue working long after our teaching is ended.

Our lives are thus made up of energy discharges, going off like rays of light in all directions, rays that never end, but go on and on into eternity.

Daily, hourly, we set particles of thought and facts into motion in the minds and lives of our pupils; these inspirations, we hope, will develop strong character, strong men and women capable of thinking for themselves, an awareness of their fellowmen, God-fearing, law-abiding, good citizens.

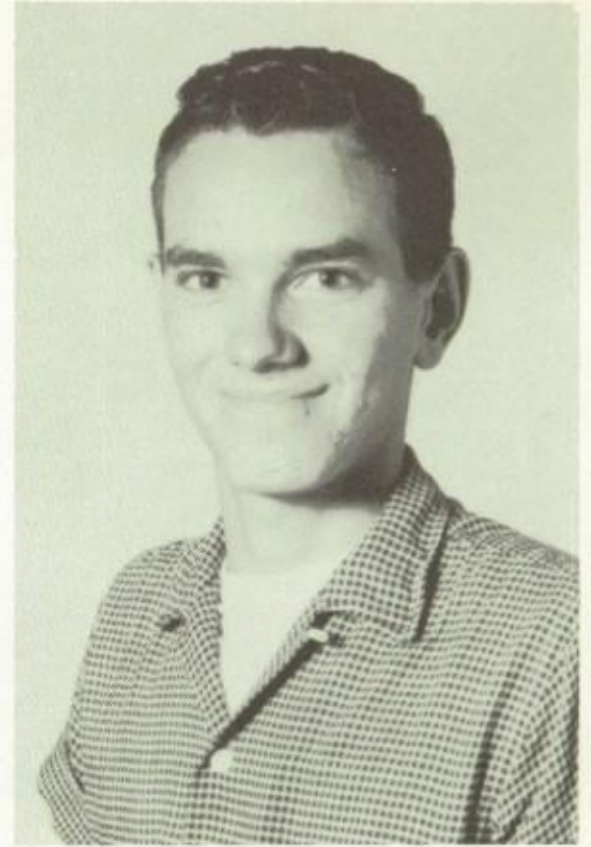

Thus our "Guiding Light" never ends, but continues shining like a candle - - -

That we and our pupils may ultimately reach the "Celestial Light Eternal."

Of all the landscape underneath,
We find no place that does not breath

Chapter 3 THE BEGINNINGS OF THE UNITED STATES

The roots of American government reach deep into the past. Our system of government did not suddenly spring into being as at the wave of some political magician's wand. Nor was it pulled out of thin air by the

Our English Heritage

The French, Spanish, Dutch, Norwegian, and other Europeans settled in parts of what was to become the United States. But it was the English who came in the largest numbers. And it was the English who came to control the thirteen colonies that stretched for 1,300 miles along the Atlantic seaboard.

These early pioneers who created the wilderness and fought off the Indians had to look out their own immediate future in the New World. But they came here in search of greater liberty

Founding Fathers of Philadelphia in the summer of 1787. "We shall meet in the name of Liberty," they declared. "We shall meet in the name of Liberty." "We shall meet in the name of Liberty." "We shall meet in the name of Liberty."

The Colonial Period

From the time of the first English settlement in 1607, the colonies were ruled by England. The colonies were ruled by England. The colonies were ruled by England. The colonies were ruled by England.

The colonies were ruled by England. The colonies were ruled by England. The colonies were ruled by England. The colonies were ruled by England. The colonies were ruled by England.

The colonies were ruled by England. The colonies were ruled by England. The colonies were ruled by England. The colonies were ruled by England. The colonies were ruled by England.

SOUTHERN AT WORK

Early Americans had to live together in harmony, or they would not survive. This was called "government in order to live." The beginning of our government today.

of which are to be found today—country, borough, city, sheriff, coroner, and justice of the peace, for example. And all of these were well known to England long before the first Englishman set foot in America.

(1) The First Concepts of Limited Government and Civil Liberties They brought with them, too, the very ideas of limited government and civil liberties. That is, that government is limited in what it may do, and, especially, that it is limited in the sense that each man has certain rights that government cannot injure or take away. These great principles of freedom were proclaimed in such historic English documents as the Magna Carta in 1215, the Petition of Right in 1628, and the Bill of Rights and the Act of Toleration of 1689.

(2) The Concept of Representative Government A third vitally important concept brought to America in English ships was that of representative government. For centuries there had been developing in England the

Dear Mrs. Singletary:

It is indeed a pleasure and an honor for us to select Miss Flame for 1961 and also to choose the six girls for the Beauty Court.

After much consideration, we have chosen the young lady whose picture is lettered "S" as Miss Flame. Our choices for the Beauty Court were as follows: "F", "J", "L", "N", "G", and "K", in that order.

Our very best wishes.

in the "Spotlight." May they advance further to the "Torch Light of Good Sportsman-ship as always."

"TORCH LIGHT" OF GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP

A torch of flaming light sets the stage for the Olympic games---The Excelsior---of all Sports. Our sportsmen may work toward that Excelsior and never see the burning torch of the Olympic Games, but through the "Torch light guidance," of their coaches, they will remember to live by the following:

"Not always right in all Men's eyes
But faithful to the LIGHT WITHIN."

The Annual Staff meditates---thinks of the Colfax High School Seniors and seems to hear each of them repeat a stanza from the poem,

"Song of the Open Road," by Walt Whitman.

"A foot and lighthearted, I take to the open road . .

Healthy, free, the world before me,

The long brown path before me, leading wherever I choose."

The Staff wishes for their "light hearts" to remember their yearbook of 1961 and the significance of light there-in.

Lead, Kindly Light, the Colfax High School Seniors now leaving us.
Light the paths for each of them, along their way, to the open road of their choice.

And Lead Kindly Light we who are left behind; guide us in our efforts and endeavors, show us a way to light a candle.

The Colfax High School Annual Staff
